Expect President To Appeal To CIO To Hold Up Strike

By CHARLES H. HERROLD
WASHINGTON, July 12—(UP)—President Truman may make a personal appeal to CIO President Philip Murray to postpone the nationwide steel strike scheduled for Saturday, informed sources said today.

These informants said the President is considering a request to Murray to delay the walkout 30 to 60 days to give a fact-finding board a chance to hold hearings and make recommendations.

Such a move, if successful, would spare Truman the political embarrassment of resorting to the injunction provision of the Taft-Hartley act which he repeatedly has asked congress to scrap.

Steel Falls Onto Road; 3 Injured

Three persons were injured, one seriously, when the car in which they were riding smashed into a spilled load of steel on Route 30, four miles north of East Liverpool, at 6:15 p. m. Monday.

A tractor-trailer, driven by James O. Tucker, 36, of Toledo rounded a curve and dumped the load of steel directly into the path of a car driven by Charles Kemple, 39, of Dayton. The front end of the car was demolished by the collision.

Kemple suffered a possible fractured skull, concussion, fractured jaw, contusion of the left eye, severely bruised eyeball, multiple lacerations of the head. He is in serious condition.

Olive Kemple, 41, had lacerations of the right leg and lip and concussion.

William H. Kemple, 53, sustained a laceration of the lip, bruised ribs and concussion.

All three were admitted to the East Liverpool City hospital.

Tucker, the truck driver, was arrested by the state highway for spilling his load on the highway. The case is pending.

Keep Russian Ship Under Careful Eye

PHILADELPHIA, July 12—(AP)—The Soviet freighter Dmitry Donskoy was under close federal watch today.

The Philadelphia Inquirer quoted a federal spokesman who asked anonymity as saying the specific purpose of the government's vigil apparently was to prevent Valentin Gubitchev from stowing away aboard the vessel.

Gubitchev, a Soviet engineer employed by the United Nations until his indictment in New York, has been free in bail awaiting his trial.

He and Judith Coplon, justice department analyst convicted in Washington of having transmitted government documents to unauthorized persons, will be tried on specific charges of spying, for Russia. Miss Coplon also is free in bail.

Hard-Pressed Cities Win Two Rounds In Aid Battle

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, July 12—(AP)—Hard-pressed cities won two big rounds in their fight for more state financial aid.

The senate Monday night approved a five percent increase in state liquor prices. Sponsors figured that will raise an extra $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 for local governments. The vote was 18-10. If the house concurs, it will boost the state liquor monopoly's profit margin from 30 percent to 35 percent.

The measure is designed to permit grants of $18,000,000 annually to cities and other local governments. They now get $12,000,000.

The increase is part of the "Youngstown plan," named after Sens. Clingan Jackson and Nicholas P. Bernard. They are Youngstown Democrats. Senate action on the liquor mark-up bill apparently shook the Youngstown measures out of the house rules committee. Members scheduled a vote on them in the house Wednesday. They cleared the senate weeks ago.

The other part of the plan deals with the $15,000,000 revenue from intangibles taxes on financial institutions. The state now returns that money to cities where it is collected. That aids banking centers like Cleveland and Cincinnati at the expense of other cities, Jackson and Bernard claim.

They want the money distributed by the formula discarded two years ago. That will give cities other than Cleveland and Cincinnati a "better break," they claim.

The house also set the uniform municipal court bill for a vote Wednesday. It would create nine new courts and put present courts under a single law. Courts now operate under separate acts. The measure passed the senate.

House leaders said representatives will concur today in a senate resolution to quit work Friday and end the session July 29. Approval by both houses is needed to make the deadline official.

Rushing to clear its decks, the senate scheduled action on 14 bills. That's about double the usual daily total. One is a house-passed measure to permit quail hunting after a ten-year propagation period. Quail now are classified as "songbirds" and can not be hunted.

Sen. Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga) said the $647,000,000.

PROMISE OF CUT IN EXCISE TAX PROMISED TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—The promise of excise tax cuts in 1950—along with new cushions against losses—was held out to business today by congress.

This was one of the first tangible reactions as lawmakers surveyed President Truman's 11-point beat-the-depression program.

There was evident agreement that only part of it could be put into effect before a pre-Labor day adjournment this year. However, a leading Republican, Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts said he agrees with Truman that within a few years the country can achieve a national output of $300,000,000,000 a year. This is a fifth more than the present annual rate.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee joined Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate finance committee in promising relief next year from some of the heavy wartime taxes. These have been applied to a long range of items from furs to face powder, and including transportation fares and communications.

President Truman asked for repeal of the excises on freight as one of the measures to keep the economy rolling in high gear and head off a threatened business recession.

But George told a reporter any such move now would cost the government $400,000,000 revenue in a period when Truman seems to have resigned himself to in-the-red financing by dropping his demand for any major tax increases.

George said—and Doughton agreed in a separate interview—that if congress lifts the lid on excises now there might be no stopping repeal of most of such levies.

The finance committee already has cleared a proposal by Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) to knock out a long list of these taxes at a revenue loss running up to $725,000,000. Administration leaders are sitting on this move, despite its support by Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, the Democratic national chairman.

Cites Freight

George said the tax on freight, which adds to the retail cost of about everything, "should be one of the first to come off."

He found himself unable to agree with the President's proposal that estate and gift taxes be raised, but said that something is almost certain to be done about business loss carrybacks and carryovers next year. These permit averaging out a firm's taxable income over good years and bad.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer last night said the 1949 business downturn may already be over, and added: "We're in no danger of any serious depression unless we lose faith in our system and our economy."

Truman's proposal for public works planning got immediate backing from the CIO, which put out a report by Economist Robert R. Nathan calling for such planning as part of a program of "positive action" to meet what Nathan said was more than merely a "healthy adjustment" in the economy.

Probe Bar Burglary

LISBON, July 12—Sheriff's deputies are investigating the burglary of the Park Way bar on Park blvd., East Liverpool. The crime occurred early Sunday morning with entrance being gained through a rear window, the thieves carrying away a box containing between $75 and $80 in change, Deputy Robert Berresford reported.

George J. Blackburn, Jr., of R. D. 1, Salineville, arrested at one o'clock Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff Robert Berresford on a charge of driving while intoxicated, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Delmar Smith. He was fined $25 and costs and given a suspended 30 day jail sentence.

Board Approves Date At Meeting: Job Contracts Are Approved

The Salem board of education, meeting Monday evening in the High school, gave its approval to the 1949-50 school calendar, which calls for the opening of schools on Wednesday, Sept. 7.

The calendar, almost a duplicate of last year's, lists Christmas vacation from Dec. 17 through Jan. 2. Schools will close June 9, 1950.

Job Contracts Let

Contracts were awarded by the board for several miscellaneous jobs and for supply of certain school equipment. The contracts are as follows:

Painting and varnishing at McKinley school—R. A. Phillips, $3,500.

Painting and varnishing at Prospect school—R. A. Phillips, $3,800.

Roof repair at McKinley school—Fred Munsell, $250.

Building entrance repair at Fourth Street school, Sponseller Construction Co., $432.

Erection of new fence at Reilly school—J. E. Murray & Son, $849.50.

New electrical service at Reilly field—William Rance, $285.

Stage curtains at Reilly and Prospect schools—Billhern Co., $1,232.

Film projector—M. H. Martin Co., $1,695.

Pupils tables—American Seating Co., per unit, $20.75, total, $307.50; per unit, $25.70, total, $514.

Pupils chairs—American Seating Co., per unit, $5.10, total, $1,020. Per unit, $5.40, total, $1,620. Per unit, $5.70, total, $1,710.

Teachers desks—James & Weaver Co., per unit, $37.80, total, $378.

Side chairs—James & Weaver Co., per unit, $30.15, total, $753.75.

Contracts were awarded to the low bidders. The bids were opened at noon, July 7.

The board heard a report by E. S. Dawson, regarding a conference which he, Supt. E. S. Kerr and Trades Extension Coordinator Holland Cameron had in Columbus last week, with Dr. B. L. Stradley, vice president of Ohio State university. The purpose of the conference was to determine the possibilities of establishing a junior college in Salem.

The group met with Stradley, who discouraged them from entering into such a project. He said there are 53 colleges in Ohio and that no city is more than 20 miles from a college. He pointed out that many Ohio colleges have overexpanded since the war and that once their G. I. money is cut off they will be in serious financial straits.

Stradley warned against doing anything "that might hurt the schools of Salem," but said that if Salem had a million and a half dollars to spend they might be able to do it.

Dutch Plane Hits India Hillside On Publicity Tour

BOMBAY, India, July 12—(AP)—A Royal Dutch airlines Constellation carrying 14 American newsmen and 31 other persons crashed on a rocky hilltop 20 miles north of Bombay this morning. All aboard were reported killed.

The plane crashed in a driving rainstorm while approaching the Santa Cruz airfield, 15 miles north of Bombay. It hit a hill near Ghatkopar, on the opposite side of the 30-mile-long island from Santa Cruz.

Search parties reported the wreckage was strewn over a two-mile area some two miles above sea level and that the wreckage was partly charred.

The accident was said to be the worst in India's aviation history. The rain had been coming down incessantly since yesterday and forecasts had predicted it would last another two days.

An airline official in New Delhi said the plane carried 20 passengers and 11 crewmen, in addition to the Americans.

The newsmen reported aboard the plane were returning from a tour of Indonesia sponsored by the Dutch government.

Had Permission

Dutch planes had not been allowed to land in India since the conflict between the Dutch government and the Indonesian republic, but a special request from the American newsmen that the restriction be relaxed was approved by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

The first search plane to reach the wreckage said there was no indication anyone had survived the crash.

Hundreds of peasants working in rice fields and a hydraulic engineer of the Bombay municipal water works witnessed the crash. Visibility was poor when the airport lost touch with the plane.

The engineer said the bodies of the passengers and crew members were strewn on the hillside. The bodies were burned making identification difficult and some 200 trees in the area were charred. One woman passenger still was alive when the first rescuer reached the spot but died within a few minutes, the engineer said.

Pilots Unfamiliar

KLM officials in New Delhi pointed out that its pilots were wholly unfamiliar with the Bombay airport area which the line never had served.

The plane which crashed today was named the Franeker. Another KLM Constellation, the Roermond, took the American newsmen to Batavia. The Roermond crashed on its return trip to the Netherlands near Bari, Italy, on June 23. Thirty-three persons lost their lives in that crash.

The plane left Batavia, Java, July 10. The newsmen had been entertained last night in New Delhi by American Ambassador Loy Henderson. They left New Delhi for Santa Cruz early today. The plane was scheduled to arrive in Holland tomorrow.

At the New Delhi reception last night, some newsmen said they had made the request that the plane be allowed to land in India in order to avoid the long over-water hop to the island of Mauritius.

The KLM statement supplied the following names as the victims:

That's The Argument

The key to President Truman's midyear economic report is the phrase "affirmative action," to denote what he thinks the government should do about the recession.

Everybody who has talked about the recession wants "affirmative action" of one kind or another. But there's no agreement on what kind of action it should be. That's the argument.

It has been going on, except for the war years, since 1930, when the last recession began. It has become a fundamental political issue.

The political faction for which Mr. Truman is now the spokesman always has wanted government to assume primary responsibility for employment, national income and initiative in handling economic responsibility.

It has also adopted the attitude that private enterprise needed political guardians; that it could not be trusted to make its own decision; that to let nature take its course in such matters would be national suicide.

It has advocated the systematic development of state controls over every part of the economic system—to a point nearly identical with that reached by state socialism.

The opposition has been skeptical of this approach. It has insisted that government should continue to act as umpire in the economic system and should not become a direct participant in the age-old struggle between men and the circumstances of their existence.

The opposition has denied the claim that a few strategically-placed men in government are better able to judge what should and shouldn't be done than all the American people, doing their own thinking in a modified laissez-faire economy. It has viewed with alarm the mushroom growth of bureaucracy, the growth of political power and the diversion of huge sums of money into political hands to pay for government's excursions into statism.

It has insisted that the very things done by government to accelerate economic activity helped to cause the slowdown which made acceleration necessary. Thus, at this time, the opposition claims that the exorbitant cost of government is restraining business, while Mr. Truman's faction claims that government spending is the likeliest means of helping business. He wants the spending rate to continue, deficit or no deficit.

Mr. Truman admits in his midyear report that the government cannot do the job alone. He wants business to make new investments, keep production and employment at a high level and maintain high wage rates. Therefore, he proposes no further tax increases. But if business falls short on his requirements, he favors government action to force business to measure up to them—the typical state-socialist attitude. All this coming from a man who once failed in his own business enterprise goes down pretty hard for businessmen who have managed to survive.

The United States, contrary to the wishful thoughts of the Truman faction, is still going to rely on the profit-and-loss system, with no more government participation than is unavoidable in a nation whose balance of power in politics is in the hands of state socialists. The argument over how far they should go has lasted 16 years, and they haven't been given a green light to go the limit yet.

They have accumulated history's highest deficit and its biggest and costliest bureaucracy; they have boosted taxes to an all-time high; they have revised the classical slogan so it now says that "now is the time for all good politicians to come to the aid of the people"—but they still haven't sold state socialism to America.

How Firm A Foundation?

The administration-backed public housing bill has squeezed through the House of Representatives. It previously had been passed by the Senate. For better or worse, this experiment in federal intervention will be tried.

Five separate and distinct opinions crystallized during debate.

First, it's the opinion of those who favor federal intervention in all fields that the experiment in housing is fully justified. They have no doubts. They make no reservations. A socialized state holds no terrors for them.

Second, it's the opinion of those who believe better housing for low-income groups can be possible only by federal intervention that the risk of socialism is worth taking. They have doubts about public housing but are able to resolve them in favor of this particular experiment. Senator Taft shares their opinion.

A third opinion is against public housing as a matter of principle. Those who hold this opinion believe the new housing bill is an opening wedge to wider opportunities for federal intervention in other fields formerly reserved to private enterprise. They refuse to practice appeasement. They are opposed to socialism in whatever form it appears.

A fourth opinion holds that the federal government cannot afford this heavy addition to its budget. Estimates of the law's cost range from $ to 24 billion dollars over a period of 40 years. The estimates are meaningless. Now that a public housing policy has been approved, future sessions of Congress can appropriate any sum of money that may seem to be necessary or politically expedient. No imagination is needed to see how a public housing policy could be geared to unemployment relief, or example. In that event, the sky would be the limit.

A fifth opinion, probably the most widely held of all, is that the federal government will need a miracle to intervene in the field of housing without adding more confusion than it takes away. Its previous experiments in the same field have not been successful. The latest one probably won't be successful. To adapt a famous auto maker's slogan to the situation—when better housing is built, private enterprise will build it, the same as always. Congress has passed another law, but it takes more than laws to build a house.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. HERMAN BUNDESON

Sciatica is a general term for pain in the lower part of the back which passes down the back of the leg along the line followed by the great sciatic nerve. Similar pain in the arm is known as brachialgia. Just as with sciatica, it has many possible causes.

For example, arthritis or inflammation of the joints in the upper part of the spine may produce a narrowing of the opening through which the nerves from the spine pass into the arm because of excessive bone formation around these openings. The resulting pressure on the nerves brings about pain which is sometimes severe. Stretching of the spine by using a system of weights and pulleys may sometimes bring relief.

Intense Pain
Bone tumors will also cause intense pain in the arm because of pressure on nerves. X-ray examination usually will reveal when this type of disorder is present.

Heart disease also may be responsible for pain in the arm. This pain is usually made worse by exercise of any kind and is relieved by rest and the giving of nitroglycerine.

Little flat pieces of cartilage known as intervertebral discs separate the bones of the spine. Rupture of such a disc in the upper part of the spine may result in brachialgia. If the spine is twisted and bent toward the affected side, the pain is made worse. Changing the position of the neck may also cause a variation in the degree of the pain. There may be a disturbance of the muscles depending upon the location of the ruptured disc. There also may be changes in the sensation of the skin of the arm.

Definite Diagnosis
X-ray examination is necessary for a definite diagnosis. Operation is rarely necessary in these cases. However, if wearing a brace and

Mock Heat Wave

OMAHA, Neb. — A reminder of last winter's blizzards was given Omaha motorists during the heat wave.

As temperatures soared, signs were erected over downtown parking meters which read "No parking until snow is removed."

The city parking meter department hastily explained that the street department must have been a little confused and should have put up plain "no parking" signs.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Who'll get into the new homes built under the government's Public Housing program? What rent will they pay?

The housing is for people now forced to live in slums or run-down homes because their income is so low they can't afford the higher rents in better dwellings.

Veterans and their families will get first consideration for an opening in a public housing project if everything else is equal.

For instance: Jones is a veteran. Smith isn't. Both live in a slum that's being torn down.

Jones will have preference over Smith in getting into a public housing unit.

The rents will vary from city to city, depending on the situation in each place where there's a housing project. And even within one project in any one city rents will vary, even for the same kind of accommodations. For example:

Jones has a wife and three small children. Smith has a wife and three small children. They live side by side, occupying the same number of rooms, and the same kind of rooms. But—

Jones may pay a little higher rent than Smith, if Jones' income is a little higher than Smith's.

In each project there'll be a maximum rent that can be charged anyone. Also, there'll be a minimum: The least rent anyone can pay and still be allowed into a project.

A family's entire income may be from some welfare agency—a family on relief—but if it gets into a public housing unit it will have to pay the minimum rent.

At this moment, before any of the housing is built, government experts think the average rent that will be charged families in the various projects should run around $23 a month, plus $7 for utilities.

Since that's an average figure, some families will pay more, some less. Every family must pay at least 20 per cent of its income in rent, minus $100 for each child under 21. For example:

Jones, with three small children, has an income of $1,800. Knock off $100 for each of his children. That leaves him with an income of $1,500 on which his rent can be figured.

Twenty per cent of $1,500 is $300 which, divided by 12 months, would make his monthly rent $25.

What kind of income does a family have to have to be admitted to one of the projects? At this time no one can give a flat answer. It's too soon to say. But guesses can be made.

Under a Public Housing act passed in 1937 by Congress, 191,000 public units were built. The average income of families being admitted to them in 1948 was $1,481.

The average income of families admitted to the new units may run higher or lower than $1,481, that will depend upon the economic condition of the country when the units are ready to be lived in.

But—once a family is admitted, that doesn't mean it can stay

WAITING FOR HISS VERDICT—As a jury in New York deliberated the fate of Alger Hiss, his accuser, Whittaker Chambers, above, relaxed on his farm at Westminster, Md., near Washington. Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman had instructed the jury that the entire issue in the Hiss perjury case boiled down to whether they believed Hiss or Chambers, a confessed former Communist spy courier.

there forever. To be admitted at all, its income will have to be under a certain figure. (The amount will be decided later in each project.)

A constant check will be made on each family's income thereafter. If, say, Jones' income finally goes above the maximum a family can have and still be allowed in a project, he'll have to move. Where?

That will be his problem. He'll have to find, now that his income has improved, living quarters in some private dwelling where the rent may be higher.

Through this checking on income, the moving in and out, over a period of many years many low-income families will be able to get the benefits of public housing. The 810,000 units to be built under the program will house about 3,200,000 persons. With a fairly steady turnover—spread over perhaps 40 years—government experts think as many as 16,000,000 persons will have found homes in public housing units.

The amount of water your garden hose will deliver is useful information to know when planning a water system or when water supplies are short. The U.S. Department of Agriculture gives these figures: A one-half-inch hose with a nozzle will deliver 200 gallons of water an hour; a three-quarter-inch hose with nozzle will deliver 275-300 gallons per hour; and a lawn sprinkler head will deliver 120 gallons per hour.

100-Year Old Church To Be Moved 150 Miles

BROOKFIELD, Vt.—The century-old Brookfield Congregational Church is going to be moved more than 150 miles this summer to Lordship, Conn., so 115 persons won't have to keep on jamming into a tiny church built for only 80.

The wooden pegs of the church, built in 1845, will be knocked out and the dismantled structure will be transported to its new home in 12 trailers at a cost of $35,000.

Connecticut Congregationalists figure the move will save them $35,000; they'd have to pay about $70,000 for a new structure.

The Brookfield church is one of two Congregational churches in the little Vermont community and it has been closed except for anniversary services. Its huge timbers are 46 feet long and it has an 80-foot steeple and one-ton church bell.

Twin Horses Overcome 100,000-To-1 Odds

TROY—Twin May Song and Twin Jay Song, twin two-year-old pacers, have won their greatest victory against fantastic odds of 100,000-to-1.

Dr. E. M. Kilpatrick, veterinarian, said the birth of twins occurs about once in every 10,000 foalings of horses. The chances of both twins living and reaching a serviceable age, he said, are one in every 100,000.

The twin pacers reached the point of serviceability when both appeared on the Troy fairgrounds track, hitched to racing bikes for

Mountain Chases Family

MOSCOW, Ida.—The meandering mountain of central Idaho is on the go again. The L. D. Nixon family have been advised to move from their ranch at the base of the mountain before it rolls right over them.

The advice is from Dr. Vernon Scheid, head of the University of Idaho's geology department, whose investigations found the mountain moving at the rate of a quarter of an inch an hour.

Dr. Scheid explained that the mountain moves on a lubricant of water seeping from an irrigation canal on the mountain down to the "glide plane."

Hospital Furnishes Beauty Treatments

DALLAS, Tex.—The latest in hospital service has been started at Methodist Hospital here. It is a portable beauty shop that rolls from room to room, offering a full course beauty treatment, from permanent wave to manicure, right at the bedside.

Bolton Boone, hospital administrator, called the portable beauty shop "one of the best morale builders we've run onto in a long time."

The ladies will get well much quicker when their face and hair is in tip-top shape," Boone said.

The male patients get some attention, too. The beauty shop on wheels offers shampoos to the men. Technicians use a type of shampoo that requires no rinse, thus avoiding dampening the bed.

Head Plumber Strikes Back At Trade Gags

CLEVELAND — William E. Zernechel, secretary of the National Association of Master Plumbers, said at the plumbers convention here that the general public shouldn't be so hard on the plumbers and criticize them for being forgetful.

Zernechel pointed out the impossibility of remembering to bring the right tool to every job. He said plumbers have over 3,000 gadgets and wrenches to lug around and people with bad pipes rarely tell the workmen exactly what or where their trouble is. In his plea for tolerance for the oft-berated plumber, Zernechel suggested that home owners learn more about their own plumbing.

Reindeer Breeding Is Tried In Michigan

COLDWATER, Mich.—The first reindeer born in captivity in this country has appeared on the Edwin Butters ranch near here.

Three does and one buck were brought to the ranch two years ago by dog sled and plane from Alaska. Butters hopes to learn whether reindeer can become acclimated to Michigan weather.

During the spring and summer, the reindeer are kept in a large stall 10 feet below ground under the barn. A low temperature is maintained at all times. The 13-pound baby buck was born here.

Butters said this is the first attempt to import reindeer into this country since 1937.

Common "Hedge Apple" Found Good Medicine

DETROIT—The common "hedge apple," considered for centuries to have no value except as an ornament, has been discovered to contain a life-saving heart stimulant.

Three University of Western Ontario professors, R. A. Waud, C. W. Gowdey and J. S. Loyne, report that the "hedge apple" can be used to produce a drug similar to the invaluable digitalis, without which some types of heart disease could not be treated.

Child, Save That Fireman

BRIDGEWATER, Va. — When floodwaters struck this northwestern Virginia town, the local fire department swung into action.

Volunteer members were asked to assemble to help to rescue stranded families from their rooftops. All but one fireman showed up.

He was found shortly afterwards, stranded on his rooftop.

Sylvia Myers, Harold McFall Married In Baptist Church

A lovely white faille bridal costume was worn by Miss Sylvia Myers when she became the bride of Harold Ivan McFall at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist church. While it was the second marriage in this new church, it was the first open church wedding.

Bouquets of white gladioli and carnations were combined with ferns in the attractive altar setting, which was lighted by white candles in a pair of tall seven-branch candelabra, tied with white satin ribbon bows.

While the usher, Robert Usher of New Waterford, nephew of the groom, was seating the guests, Mrs. Robert Hammel, church organist, played "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "I Love Thee." She accompanied Miss Donna Lou Getz, soloist, who sang "Through the Years" and "Because." Mrs. Hammel also played the traditional wedding marches.

Double Ring Ceremony

Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor, heard the exchange of vows in the double ring ceremony.

The bride's father walked with her to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her gown was styled with a round neckline, ornate with a rose design of crystal beads, long sleeves pointed at the wrists, a full skirt, trimmed in pleating, and ending in a court train. Her finger-tip nylon veil fell from a Juliette cap trimmed in seed pearls and wreathed with pearly orange blossoms, which were on her mother's bridal veil.

Her cascade bouquet of white gladioli and achellia was tied with wide satin ribbon.

Mrs. Jay Baillie of Youngstown, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and Miss Jane Myers, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Mrs. Baillie appeared in an attractive pale blue organdie gown made with a sweetheart neckline.

three-quarter length sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt.

Miss Myers wore a becoming pink organdie gown designed with a hoop skirt.

Their bouquets were identical to the bride's, only in colors to harmonize with their gowns.

Jay Baillie of Youngstown was his brother-in-law's best man.

The bride's mother was costumed in blue and white sheer. She complemented her outfit with white accessories and wore a corsage of Stephanotis.

Reception Held

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Myers, Cleveland st. Some of the guests were from Youngstown, New Waterford and Canton.

Mrs. Dean Heston was in charge of refreshments, which were served from a beautifully appointed table laid with white linen. A four-tiered wedding cake was topped with an ornament, and white candles were in crystal. Mrs. Heston was assisted by Miss Genevieve Hively and Miss Dorothy Mae Stanley. Miss Audrey McFall, sister of the groom, served the cake.

The bride is a graduate of Salem High school. The groom is a son of Harry O. McFall of Columbia st., and the late Mrs. McFall. A navy veteran, he is a painter by trade. When the bride left on her honeymoon, she was wearing a white gabardine suit with white accessories and a smoke silver Siamese bracelet, a gift a friend brought from abroad.

The bride gave her attendants compacts, while the men in the bridal party received cuff links.

Garden Center Tips For July Offered

The Salem Garden center, which is maintained in the public library by the Salem Garden club, offers these suggestions to gardeners for July.

"This is the season to fertilize rhododendron, mountain laurel, azaleas and other acid-soil plants. While any commercial fertilizer strong in phosphorus and potash is satisfactory, one made up of one part muricate of potash and two parts cottonseed or soy bean meal would be better.

"Whatever is used should be lightly cultivated into the soil about each plant and then thoroughly watered. Of course a mulch of old manure, an inch or two deep, would be a welcome addition as it would supply additional fertilizer as well as conserving soil moisture."

Mrs. A. A. Parker, chairman; Mrs. Lester Baldinger, Mrs. Alroy Bloomberg, Mrs. Earl Rogers and Mrs. Alton Bye make up the Garden center committee.

Mrs. Eleanor Tolerton Gibson, Girl Scout executive of Toledo, is spending the week with her father, W. W. Tolerton, E. Third st.

Mordew-Jackson Vows Exchanged

Miss Ruthanna Jean Mordew wore a lovely golden brown satin dress complemented with a double strand of pearls and a corsage of camellias when she became the bride of Lawrence Jackson at 3 p. m. Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mordew, W. Wilson st.

The dress was a gift of her grandfather, Joseph Mordew, and the pearls were a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Mordew.

During the single ring service, performed by Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor of First Baptist church, the bridal party stood before a beautiful floral setting of gladioli, American Beauty roses and garden flowers of varied hues.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Mrs. Robert Fluharty, who was dressed in pink taffeta and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds. Robert Fluharty was best man.

The bride's mother used white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses with a green and white summer dress, while the groom's mother in a grey and white outfit used white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Eighty relatives and friends from Salem, Steubenville, Diamond and Lake Milton attended the wedding reception at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Meiter, Pidgeon rd.

The refreshment table, set on the lawn, was laid with an embroidered cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with an ornament.

Mr. Jackson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Jackson, Pine st. He is an employee of the Salem China Co.

The newlyweds will reside temporarily with his parents.

Alliance Girl To Wed Robert R. Chisler

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bratu of Alliance announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to Robert R. Chisler, son of Mrs. Joella Chisler of Salem and the late Grover C. Chisler.

Mayhew-Graf Vows Are Exchanged

Mrs. Edgar F. Sommers of Leetonia announces the marriage of her daughter, Virginia Mayhew, Seattle, Wash., to Charles Graf, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., which was an event of Wednesday, June 29, in the Pilgrim Congregational church. Rev. Oswald Jefferson performed the ceremony.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman, Bainbridge, Wash.

A graduate of Salem High school, and St. Luke's hospital school of nursing, Cleveland, the bride was employed at the Central Clinic before going to Seattle two years ago. She was employed at the Virginia Mason clinic at one time.

Mr. Graf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graf of Brooklyn, enlisted in the Navy and was in war duty on Guam, the Philippines and Honolulu. He was discharged in 1948 with an aviation mechanics second class rating, after six years of service. In February he joined the Coast Guard and is stationed on Annette island off the Alaskan coast, where they will make their home.

The couple met when he was stationed at the Naval base, Bremerton, Wash.

When in Salem the bride made her home with her grandfather, W. F. Crowl of W. Pershing st., and her grandmother, the late Mrs. Crowl. She is a daughter of J. Willard Mayhew, Benton rd.

Miss Haynam Bride Of Dwight Swinton

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Drusilla Haynam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Haynam of Hanoverton, and Dwight Swinton, student at Kent State university, which was an event of Saturday, July 2, in St. Paul's Methodist chapel, Monroe, Mich. Rev. J. H. Howard officiated at the morning ceremony.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Swinton are graduates of Augusta High school. She was also graduated from Ohio State university and for the past two years taught home economics in the Minerva High school. Mr. Swinton is majoring in accounting at Kent State. He is a member of Phi Beta Phi and Delta Sigma Phi fraternities.

Janice Freshley Weds Jay Eells

Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the Lisbon Presbyterian church, officiated in the double ring ceremony when Miss Janice Freshley became the bride of Jay Eells Saturday afternoon at the Freshly home, south of Columbiana.

The couple said their vows in front of a bank of flowers arranged at one end of the living room. Large baskets of white gladioli and carnations were arranged in two tiers flanked by smaller bouquets of pink roses and white gladioli. Suspended from the ceiling were two large white bells adorned with sweetpeas and pink and white ribbon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an ankle length gown of white Spanish lace with a tight bodice and full skirt topped with a jacket with long pointed sleeves and a small standup collar. She wore a deep purple orchid corsage. She also wore a single strand pearl necklace, gift of the groom and a gold bracelet worn by her mother at her wedding.

Mrs. Ray Hull of Cleveland, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress was pink organdy trimmed with a velvet belt and velvet outlining each panel of the skirt. She wore a corsage of gardenias. Kenneth Eells was his brother's best man.

The bride's mother was dressed in pink nylon with white accessories complemented with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother in a navy blue crepe dress wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Paul Crosser of Lisbon played "Because" and "Oh Promise Me" before the ceremony. The Bridal Chorus was used for the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional.

A reception followed the wedding. The table was beautiful with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Kenneth Reash of Salem and Mrs. Raymond Shive Jr. served.

For her going away outfit, Mrs.

Eells wore a linen suit with a navy jacket and a white skirt with white accessories.

After a weeks motor tour to Washington, D. C. and surrounding states the couple will reside at their home in Elkton.

Mrs. Eells is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Freshley of Columbiana. She is a graduate of David Anderson High school and was recently employed by the Sanitation dept. of the County Board of Health.

Mr. Eells is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Walter Eells of Elkton and is engaged in farming.

Church Women To Hold Annual Outing Friday

The annual picnic of the Federation of Salem Church Women will be held Friday at Centennial park. The covered dinner is scheduled for 12:30.

To Make Mama Glamorous Use Ideas, Candid Camera

By VIRGINIA MACPHERSON
HOLLYWOOD, July 12—(UP)—Any amateur camera fiend can turn the little woman into a "Cheesecake Cutie," a famous photographer said today, provided he doesn't get carried away and snap her in the altogether.

"There is nothing sexy about a woman parading around in her birthday suit," claims Paul Parry, who makes a living shooting pretty girls for calendars and magazine covers.

And if you're trying to transform Mama into another Betty Grable, steer clear of those French bathing suits, too.

Otherwise, Parry maintains, cheesecake shots at home can outsex anything a professional photographer does with a limp model and a bearskin rug.

Too Posed
"That's too posed and stiff," he said. "Any husband can do better with a grab shot of his wife hanging out the clothes—if she's wearing her sun suit and reaching up high enough."

There's all kinds of tricks to turn the lady of the house into a glamor girl. Even if she's an old battle-axe, Parry says, she's bound to have something worth photographing.

"Maybe she has a face that'd stop a clock, but her hands and legs are good. Okay, cut out everything else and shoot her hands pulling on filmy black stockings. Say her face is pretty, but she's built like a Mack truck. Then camouflage her bulges with a bathtub full of soap bubbles and concentrate on her smile."

The average home, Parry says, has all the equipment you need for cheesecake shots.

"Bed is the best location," he went on. "And the old pose showing a girl climbing a fence with her skirts caught on a nail is always good."

"If you want to go all out you can always spend a few dollars, buy a bale of hay and rig up your own haystack underneath the the clothesline. Put your wife in a low-necked blouse and you've got cheesecake that is cheesecake!"

Another sure-fire gimmick is the "man's shirt" routine. "Pile her hair on top of her head and get her into one of your old shirts," he says. "For some reason or other that's about as sexy as you can get. It tantalizes the male imagination."

Parry claims you get your best "pin-ups" with a candid camera. He uses a Tynar because it's small enough to hide in the palm of his hand.

"They're better for sneaking up on your subjects," he grinned. "Mama may hate you most of the time—but you're bound to get some sensational pictures if you keep following her around."

Fichter Explains Grange Uprising
COLUMBUS, July 12—(AP)—Joseph W. Fichter, master of the Ohio Grange, said today disturbance at Utica during an installation of officers of the Pomona grange of Licking county forced him to move the meeting to the nearby Bennington grange hall.

Fichter said he moved the installation rites Saturday night on the invitation of grange members not sympathetic to the demonstration.

He said his decision was voluntary, although a Utica policeman appeared at Utica High school building, where the installation was in progress.

The demonstration was started during the invocation preceding the installation by "five or six dissidents," Fichter said. The meeting broke up in a bedlam of booing and cat-calls, he added.

Fichter said the installation of nine grange officers was completed at ceremonies at Bennington grange hall. Five others of the 14 officers elected last November had been installed earlier, he said.

He said the five installed earlier are sympathetic with the views of a group of dissidents who opposed Fichter's appointment last January of Desso Pipes of Newark as county deputy to the state master.

The nine other officers Fichter installed Saturday night, belong to a faction supporting Pipes' appointment, he said. The dissident group had elected nine other grange members as officers to replace the nine others previously elected and, until Saturday, never installed, Fichter said.

Bulls And Rattlesnakes All In One Day's Work
HUTCHINSON, Kan. — One way to hold off a mad bull is to grab the ring in his nose and yank it. His nose will bleed and confuse him long enough to allow the holder to turn loose and run.

At least, George Roberson says it works. He has had several occasions to do it while walking 100,000 miles in 20 years as a Kansas Power & Light Co. line walker.

Roberson has a plan for outwitting rattlesnakes, too. He allows the snake to strike the sole of his heavy boots.

"That makes him cover his head in pain," Roberson said. "Then I cut him in half with a knife."

Israel Blockade Curbs Smuggling

By FRED ZUSY
BEIRUT, July 12—(AP)—Lebanon has created a "neutral zone" on its short border with Israel in an attempt to block smuggling of foodstuffs into the new Jewish state.

Inform sources said this smuggling is a large scale business, a great deal of it apparently well organized.

Food prices in Israel, crowded with a constantly growing number of immigrants, are well above prices in Lebanon. For example, eggs which sell for about 33 cents a dozen in Lebanon, bring $2.40 a dozen in Israel.

Prices of other foods, such as mutton, poultry, fruits and vegetables, are proportionately higher. On the Israeli market they command six or seven times the price on the Lebanese market.

The temptation to make some of this easy money is great. Apparently it is strong enough to submerge—at least in the smugglers—the antagonism to the new Jewish state that flared at its peak during the Palestine fighting.

Gabriel Murr, Lebanon's minister of the interior, said creation of the "neutral zone" on the Israeli border is expected to put effective controls on such smuggling.

He said a close check is being kept in this zone on the number of livestock, amount of foodstuffs and so on. Any discrepancies in the totals will have to be explained to the Lebanese government, he said.

Some of the smuggling, informants said, has been carried on by semi-nomadic Bedouins who respect no national boundaries in their wanderings. These Bedouins sell to whoever pays the highest price.

The horse still performs important services on British railways, which maintain a stud of 75,000 horses with adequate stabling, hospitals and training schools controlled by a horse superintendent.

New Revolt Seen Against GOP Head

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—A new revolt threatened today to put Hugh D. Scott, Jr., out of his job as Republican national chairman.

Scott dismissed the rebellion lightly, but Republican leaders said they would not be surprised if a group of national committee members force a meeting which might vote Scott out.

Originating in a secret session at Pittsburgh over the week-end, the anti-Scott movement apparently had gained strength among national committee members who sought unsuccessfully to unseat him in a meeting in Omaha, Neb., last January. Scott won that test, 54 to 50.

Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, an Ohio national committee member who attended the Pittsburgh meeting, said at Dayton that Scott was not asked to resign. She did say that she and others were "very dissatisfied at Scott's repeated attempts to by-pass the national committee." She added she wants him to stay on as chairman if he will work in close harmony with the committee.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Osa Johnson, the first lady of the jungle, lives on Park avenue now—and it makes her homesick for the serenity of Africa.

"I like my jungles because I don't have any competition there," she laughed.

"Here you get invited to dinner and right away you start worrying, 'What shall I wear and what will so-and-so wear?'"

"But there I can wear khaki trousers and hunting boots and put my little gun on my shoulder and go out into the jungle and feel I am queen of all I survey. I can look up at the blue sky and feel all Africa is mine."

SHE SAID SHE was going back, too, for one last trek to the land whose wild life was filmed by her explorer husband, Martin Johnson, as she stood guard with a gun.

Johnson was killed in a plane crash in California in 1937, and Osa was injured badly.

"I have a secret valley," she said. "I can't tell you where it is. It has never been explored but Martin and I always vowed we would go back. It's teeming with big game—lions, rhinos, elephants, buffalo—everything. There must be at least a million head of big game in that valley."

She is planning an expedition consisting of two station wagons, six jeeps with trailers, and a helicopter.

"I can flutter over in the helicopter and tickle the backs of elephants and ostriches. You should see the ostriches fan themselves with their plumes as they run. They make Sally Rand look like a sissy."

"I want to make a full length color film of wild life there. It's never been done."

"Animals in zoos are out of their environment. They lose their color and become wishy-washy. But a wild zebra—he looks like black and white satin, sleek and fat and glossy. And the giraffe—he's a gorgeous bronze. He glistens in the sun."

Osa has kept busy since her husband's death. She has published nine books and is now writing four more for children, based on life stories of her own animal pets. She is also completing a cookbook of exotic recipes, preparing for a lecture tour and negotiating a television contract. She has a library of 2,000,000 feet of film taken by her husband on their travels.

Now 55, Osa is still as vivacious and energetic as the day she married Johnson at 16.

"I thought we'd live in Chantilly, Kas., and grow a couple of kids and a vegetable garden," she

Services Study New Supply Transport Plan

PIASECKI'S XH-16: In model form, is a giant two-rotor helicopter equipped with a "pod"—a detached airplane fuselage—unloading a shipment of jeeps and artillery pieces at the front.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Flying supplies direct from the factory loading platform to the battlefield is the latest transportation idea under study by the services.

Here's the way it would work: Guns, ammunition, food, first aid supplies, even tanks, would be packed into detached airplane fuselages—pods—at the factory. Giant helicopters would settle down to the loading platforms, attach themselves to the pods, and carry them to the nearest airport.

Planes designed for the job would pick up the pods and fly them overseas for delivery to the airport nearest the battlefield. Helicopters would again pick up the detached, packed fuselages and deliver them straight to the combat area.

This method could get emergency supplies from the factory to troops in combat four or five times faster than the quickest emergency deliveries which were made during World War II.

The XH-16, the giant helicopter said, "But Martin had an itchy foot. So I went off to the jungle with him, and I fell in love with it, too."

She estimates she has traveled "roughly 1,500,000 miles" in her career.

"We did pretty well for a couple of kids who started from nothing," she smiled.

How Hot Can You Get? Engineers Found Out

MINNEAPOLIS—Some humans have withstood temperatures of 240 degrees Fahrenheit for 25 minutes.

Two University of California engineers told the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers meeting at the University of Minnesota about some tests with student volunteers.

Craig Taylor and W. V. Blockley said they conducted the experiments to help solve practical problems of industrial psychology and hygiene. Kiln technicians, for instance, frequently are exposed to temperatures of 250 degrees for several minutes and sometimes to 500 degrees.

to fly detached pods, is now being built for the services by the Piasecki Helicopter Corp. in Philadelphia. Fairchild Aircraft Corp. is building the plane for the job, the XC-120. The new problem is how to make a detachable fuselage with interchangeable fittings that can be used by both types of aircraft. This is said by Air Force engineers to be a relatively simple engineering job.

A third possibility is to make the pods attachable to a truck so that they can move along highways if that should be necessary.

The Army and Air Force have financed the Fairchild project, which is aimed at improving and speeding airborne operations. It involves quick delivery of complete compact units such as communications centers, first aid stations and command posts, as well as supplies. An enormous amount of time is expected to be saved in the handling of supplies with the use of the detachable pod.

All three services are financing

WINONA Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Fultz, Salem-Winona road, on Wednesday.

A picnic dinner was enjoyed on the lawn. This was followed by a business meeting with devotions in charge of Mrs. Leedom Cope.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Lowell Whinery who gave an account of the North East Ohio conference held at Youngstown recently.

Mrs. Richard Stamp gave a description report of the Little Chapel of Friendly Bells. Mrs. Donald Mayhew, a delegate to the annual conference at Lakeside, made a report.

The society accepted an invitation to a luncheon at the New Garden church on Wednesday. The tent meeting will again be held in Stewart's Grove, opening on Thursday and continuing until July 24.

The children's and Young Peoples meeting will be held every evening at 7:15 p. m. and regular meeting 8 p. m.

The evangelist in charge is Rev. Millard Downing assisted the Piasecki company in the construction of a huge two-rotor helicopter to use with a detachable fuselage. And many large business firms are just as interested in the idea. The advantage of fast air delivery from factory to customer is obvious. Many cities are also trying to buy them for suburban airmail deliveries.

Since the war the Navy and Marine Corps have done most with the development of the large helicopter. It has proved so successful for the Navy in rescue and reconnaissance, that the helicopter has completely supplanted the catapult sea plane on all of the Navy ships.

Extensive tests and mock combat by the Marines have shown that assaults against beaches with the troops carried in large helicopters are faster, and cheaper in lives and money, than with standard landing craft.

A big Piasecki helicopter costs about $125,000. Its range is about 250 miles and its speed is a little more than 100 miles-per-hour.

Council Meets The Farm Forum Council met Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hanna. There were 36 in the group including members and their families who enjoyed the outdoor meeting in charge of President Ronald Hoopes.

Mrs. Nelson Baunach led an interesting discussion on the atomic age of farming. The hostess assisted by others, served a lunch with Independence day appointments. The council plans to meet the evening of Aug. 6 with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoopes.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward of Buffalo, N. Y., visited relatives here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sell are on a few days' vacation trip in Pennsylvania.

Lydia Missionary circle members and guest Mrs. Leedom Cope went to Warren Thursday where they met with Mrs. Robert Brantingham.

The women enjoyed a coverdish lunch, followed by a business meeting in charge of Mrs. Earl Ruble. The program included a paper prepared by Mrs. Carl Creighton and read by Mrs. Sherman Brantingham.

Mrs. Icie and Miss Martha Hendershot spent the weekend visiting relatives and friends near Cadiz and Adena.

Return Home Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hendershot, newlyweds, have returned from nine-day wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and Wilmore, Ky. The couple are making their home with his mother, Mrs. Icie Hendershot.

Junior Youth fellowship and the directors of the Methodist church enjoyed a swimming party and wiener roast Thursday evening at Whinery's landing at Guilford lake.

The business meeting was in charge of the president, Jay Alt-house. Betty Cooper was elected secretary of the group. Doris MacNamee acting as hostess served refreshments assisted by her mother, Mrs. Carl MacNamee.

Several local people attended the horse show at Carrollton. Those entering horses for show were Willard Cope and Donald Coppock.

Mrs. Hanna Steer of Barnesville has spent the past week visiting her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fowler, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zeppernick and Mrs. Sina Megrail and other relatives and friends here.

Miss Margaret Fowler accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson of Atco, Ga., spent several days as guests of Miss Fowler's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fowler.

There were 12 local young people in the group of 73 that enjoyed a summer camp at Quaker canyon, Damascus, Tuesday to Friday. Rev. Sherman Brantingham and Mrs. Carl Creighton were the local people assisting as advisors.

Tommy Rudeback of near Leetonia spent a few days this week as a guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Rudeback.

Several local ladies attended the Home and Community picnic held at Firestone park.

Mrs. Helen Andrews of Cleveland attended the Arbanitis and Dimko wedding Saturday and spent the holiday weekend with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Rhodes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dimko have returned from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. The young couple will reside in Salem.

Case Of Whiskey Ends Police Patrol Chase

RICHMOND, Va.—Paul Bunyan himself couldn't have done better: A case of whiskey for a chaser.

The story is found on the police blotter here. A liquor law violator, being chased by a police cruiser, decided to dispose of the evidence.

He threw a case of whiskey from his speeding car. The police cruiser rammed into it, grazed a curb and was out of the chase for good.

Congressman Hays Flays Committee

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) said today some members of the un-American activities committee are seeking headlines at any price in connection with the Alger Hiss trial.

Hays referred to criticism of trial Judge Samuel F. Kaufman, by Reps. Nixon (R-Calif.), Case (R-SD), and Velde (R-Ill.), committee members. Hays told the house he questioned whether "any member of the un-American activities committee has the right to interfere with the judiciary branch of the government."

"Has any member of that committee the moral right to re-try this case in the public press?" Hays asked. "Is the un-American activities committee being used as a partisan, political vehicle? Is the feverish desire of some members of congress to see their name in print casting a reflect-tion on the congress as a whole and endangering the traditional balance between the three branches of government?"

Hays was applauded. Before he spoke, Rep. Multer (D-NY) attacked what he called "unwarranted attempts to besmirch the character" of the judge in the Hiss trial, which ended last week with a hung jury.

Kaufman, Multer added, "is every bit as loyal and patriotic as his attackers."

Do YOU Own A "Scratching" Dog?

If you own a dog that is continually scratching, digging, rubbing, and biting himself until his skin is raw and sore, don't just feel sorry for him. The dog can't help himself. But you may. He may be clean and free from just suffering from an intense itching irritation that has entered in the nerve endings of his skin. Do as thousands of pleased dog owners are doing. At any good drug store, pet or sport shop, get a 30c package of Rex Hunters Dog Food, and give them once a week. Note the quick improvement. Why a Man Buys a Cadillac

If you were to ask the owner of a 1949 Cadillac why he bought his car, he would doubtless find it difficult to put into words the way he feels about "the Standard of the World".

He would probably tell you that he bought his car because it's a Cadillac.

Of course if you wanted to ask him specific questions, he could give you much specific information. Did he buy his Cadillac for performance?

Why, surely he bought it for performance—for the 1949 Cadillac is powered by a great new V-8 engine, so smooth and effortless that only a demonstration can tell the story of its superiority.

Did he buy it for comfort? Yes—for a ride so quiet and restful and easy that every mile is a joy and a relaxation.

Did he buy it for safety? He certainly did! He has such confidence in the steady steering, the quick acceleration and the powerful hydraulic brakes that his peace of mind is worth the purchase price!

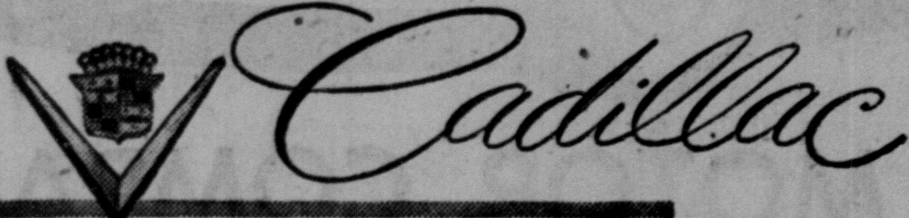

Did he buy it for long life and durability? There can be no doubt of it. For he knows that many individual Cadillacs have covered the highways for over half a million miles and are still in active service!

Did he buy it for...? Why, of course he did! And he bought it for a lot of other reasons: for beauty, for distinction, for quality, for background, for character, for craftsmanship, as well as for engineering.

He bought it, you see, because it's a... Cadillac.

And that is the reason why you should buy one—for Cadillac's superiority lies not in any one thing but in the whole of its substance. Why not come in for a ride that's a revelation?

Cabinet Officer, Major General Withdraw From Ohio Races

SEC. SAWYER AND GEN. BEIGHTLER WON'T SEEK OFFICE

Both Deny Rumors They Might Figure In 1950 Ohio Politics

COLUMBUS, July 12—(AP)—A cabinet officer and a major general bowed out of Ohio politics yesterday — temporarily, at least — by saying they wouldn't consider running for public office.

The cabinet officer is Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, a former lieutenant-governor of Ohio. The major general is Robert S. Beightler, wartime commander of Ohio's famed 37th division, now commander of the fifth armored division at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

In answer to a question on a television program (NBC) in Washington, Sawyer said he would not consider being the Democratic candidate for senator next year against Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

The cabinet officer made it emphatic by saying: "I am not a candidate for anything."

Sawyer laughed off the suggestion that a large number of influential Democrats might create a spontaneous movement in his behalf, hoping to get him to reconsider running for the senate.

The man who narrowly lost the Democratic nomination for governor some years ago refused to attempt a prediction whether Senator Taft would be defeated. "I'm not a prophet," he commented.

But he added: "Mr. Taft will get vigorous and effective opposition."

General Beightler, who frequently has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, informed friends yesterday he would not be available for the race. The Columbus Dispatch reported.

The general, his friends are reported as saying, has decided to pursue his military career instead.

Beightler once served as Ohio director of highways on an appointment by former Governor John Bricker. He served until October, 1940, when he returned to active duty with the 37th division.

Feels Beightler Strong
While Beightler apparently has stepped aside from consideration as a GOP gubernatorial candidate, the Franklin county Republican chairman still feels he is one of the party's 10 best bets to defeat Gov. Frank J. Lausche next year.

Walter Schneider, the county GOP head, included Beightler's name on a list of 10 possible candidates which he sent to the 85 members of the county executive committee.

Included on Schneider's list were: Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, George H. Bender, former congressman-at-large, of Cleveland; State Treasurer Don H. Ebricht; Paul M. Herbert, former lieutenant governor; Thomas J. Herbert, former governor.

Hugh S. Jenkins, former attorney general; Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus; Congressman John M. Vorys of Columbus; Rep. C. William O'Neill of Marietta, minority leader in the Ohio house, and Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott of Columbus, minority leader in the Ohio senate.

TAFT SAYS HE'S FORCED TO VOTE 'NO' ON NEW PACT

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the senate today he will vote against the North Atlantic pact because he believes it binds this country to arm Western Europe.

Thus it may "promote war," he said.

The Ohioan, who heads his party's policy committee, said in a prepared address he regards the treaty as a defensive military alliance which "by no stretch of the imagination" can be said to strengthen the United Nations.

Wants Reservation
He added, however, he would support it if the senate adopted a reservation denying any legal or moral obligation for this country to supply arms to Western Europe.

Senator Watkins (R-Utah) previously offered such a reservation earlier in the day but administration leaders remained confident they can defeat it.

They expect to propose a $1,450,000,000 arms program as soon as the senate ratifies the treaty.

Taft said he is quite willing to consider providing military aid to some specific countries.

"But that is a very different thing from an obligation to build up the armed forces of 11 countries," he added.

"My conclusion has been reached with the greatest discomfort," he said. "When so many disagree with that conclusion, I must admit that I may be completely wrong."

"I do not claim to be an expert on questions of foreign policy."

Set New Record For Canoe Trip

TOLEDO, July 12 — (AP)—Bertrand E. Cobb, 19, and Charles Neundorff, 20, both of Toledo, yesterday set a new record of 21 hours and 2 minutes by canoe from Ft. Wayne, Ind. to Toledo via the Maumee river.

They chopped 4 hours and 36 minutes off the old mark set last year for the 165-mile trip sponsored by the Aquarama festival now underway in Toledo. They were awarded $250.

Second place went to Allen Cobb, 22, brother of Bertrand, and James A. Babcock, Jr., 22, both of Toledo, with an elapsed time of 21 hours and 10 minutes.

Thirteen teams started from Ft. Wayne Thursday and eight finished here at Walbridge park yesterday afternoon. Overnight stops were made at Antwerp, Defiance and Grand Rapids.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. ELLA DUNMORE

Mrs. Ella Dunmore, 84, died of complications at 3:20 p. m. Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Ford, 290 S. Ellsworth ave., following a lingering illness.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Oliver, she was born Nov. 20, 1864, near Alliance. She had lived in Salem 40 years, coming here from Damascus. She was a member of the A. M. E. Zion church.

Her husband, John H. Dunmore, Civil war veteran, died 50 years ago.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ford, with whom she resided; Mrs. John M. Smith of Cleveland and Mrs. A. C. Duffie of Charlotte, N. C. She was the last of her immediate family.

Funeral service at 2 p. m. Thursday will be at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. W. P. Dockery, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion church. Burial will be in the Damascus cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

JAY EDWARD FITTING
Private funeral service for Jay Edward Fitting, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Fitting of Warren, who died at 2 a. m. Monday in the Trumbull Memorial hospital, Warren, will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Hall funeral home, Warren.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

He was born Dec. 10, 1943, in Warren. The mother is the former Helen Kloos of Salem.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Valerie Jean, at home, and his maternal grandfather, John Kloos of Salem.

MRS. HYLAND FUNERAL
COLUMBIANA, July 12—Funeral service was held yesterday for Mrs. Cornelia Hyland, who died Saturday at her home after a lingering illness. Rev. W. S. Longworth officiated.

Mrs. Hyland was active in the Methodist church, local and county W. C. T. U., Sorosis club and was known throughout the area for her large collection of buttons.

Besides her husband, Thomas, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Clyde Richardson, Mrs. H. C. Laughlin and Miss Thelma Hyland; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Columbiana cemetery.

WINSTON SILLIMAN
Winston Silliman, 37, of Sharon, Pa., died Saturday night at his home, according to word received here by his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Davis.

Mr. Silliman, a clerk at the New York Central Railroad offices in Sharon, had been ill for several months.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the McGrath funeral home in Sharon.

Opposes Mark-up
Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton) opposed the liquor mark-up bill. He drew from Sens. Edwin F. Sawicki (D-Cuyahoga) and Robert C. Ragan (D-Lucas) admission that the state is taking only a 27 percent profit. It is allowed a maximum 30 percent mark-up. Deddens said the governor should order the maximum profit now allowed.

"If the governor doesn't care to do it, I for the life of me can't see why the legislature should do it," Deddens remarked. "Either the governor is desirous of shirking his duty, or the funds aren't needed," he added.

Sawicki termed the increase "one of the least controversial" proposals this session.

REPUBLIC STEEL
CLEVELAND, July 12—(AP)—Republic Steel Corp., followed the pattern set by U. S. Steel Corp., today and refused wage increases and pensions to the CIO-United Steelworkers.

In a letter to W. F. Donovan, chairman of the union negotiating committee, Republic's negotiator, E. J. Magee, said:

Economic conditions do not warrant a fourth round of wage increases.

The company will negotiate group insurance questions providing the final plan is financed jointly by the company and employees.

Under terms of the contract, "pensions are not a proper subject for negotiation at this time."

This, in substance, was the same answer to the steelworkers given by the United States Steel, July 6.

Americans are eating 15 per cent more food per capita than before the war, researchers at Washington State College report.

Corn, Wheat Crops Forecast By Experts

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—The Agriculture department today forecast this year's corn crop at 3,530,185,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 1,188,690,000 bushels on the basis of July 1 conditions.

This is the first estimate of the year for corn. It compares with last year's record of 3,650,548,000 bushels and, with a ten-year (1938-47) average of 2,787,628,000 bushels.

The wheat estimate is 148,286,000 bushels less than 1,336,976,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with last year's big crop of 1,288,406,000 bushels and with the ten-year average of 991,950,000 bushels.

The winter wheat crop was put at 932,095,000 bushels. This is 104,646,000 bushels less than 1,036,741,000 forecast a month ago, 990,098,000 last year and 726,553,000 for the ten-year average.

All spring wheat was estimated at 256,595,000 bushels. This is 43,640,000 less than 300,235,000 forecast a month ago, 298,308,000 last year and 265,397,000 for the ten-year average.

Durum wheat was put at 48,766,000 bushels in the first forecast of the year for the type. Production last year was 44,742,000 and for the ten-year average it was 36,256,000.

Spring wheat other than durum was estimated at 207,829,000 bushels, compared with 253,566,000 last year and 229,141,000 for the ten-year average.

Oats production was forecast at 1,379,672,000 bushels. This is 95,262,000 less than 1,474,934,000 last year and 1,474,934,000 for the ten-year average.

predicted a month ago. It compares with 1,491,752,000 last year and 1,234,082,000 for the ten-year average.

Barley production was put at 244,104,000 bushels. This is 38,949,000 less than 283,053,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with 317,037,000 last year and 304,741,000 for the ten-year average.

Rye production was indicated at 19,735,000 bushels. This is 1,822,000 less than 21,557,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with 26,388,000 last year and 35,109,000 for the ten-year average.

Estimates for other crops not previously forecast this year, compared with last year and the ten-year average, respectively, included:

All hay 97,671,000 tons; 99,846,000 and 99,539,000.

Dry edible beans 19,149,000 bags of 100 pounds; 20,833,000 and 16,855,000.

Sugarcane 8,032,000 tons; 6,847,000 and 5,952,000.

Sugar beets 9,850,000 tons; 9,422,000 and 10,145,000.

Apples (commercial) 121,081,000 bushels; 88,407,000 and 111,114,000.

Peaches 76,250,000 bushels; 65,352,000 and 68,947,000.

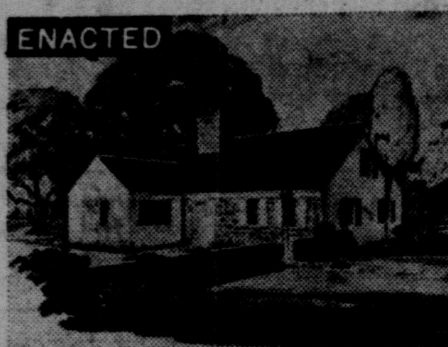

Pears 33,685,000 bushels; 26,334,000 and 30,832,000.

Grapes 2,995,000 tons; 3,044,000 and 2,736,000.

Cherries 225,000 tons; 214,000 and 172,000.

Milk production in June totaled 12,303,000,000 pounds, compared with 11,888,000,000 in May; 12,176,000,000 in June last year and 12,188,000,000 for ten-year June average.

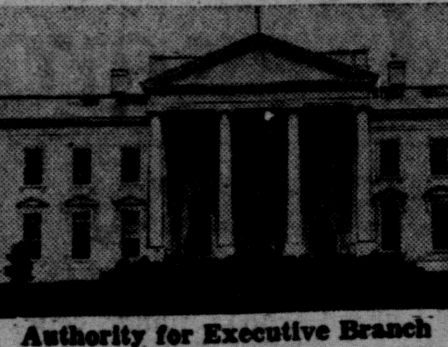

The Bronx Zoo has had more than a hundred million visitors since it opened nearly 50 years ago.

Six Months of Truman Administration—

This new chart shows the key legislation planks of President Truman's campaign platform and what their fate has been in the 81st Congress. Of 15 major bills, only three have been passed. Other outstanding legislation during this period includes probable ratification of the North Atlantic Treaty and the still pending arms-to-Europe program to implement the treaty.

CONGRESS HANGS OUT "WELCOME" TO TRUMAN TALK

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—Congress generally hung out a welcome sign today for President Truman's abandonment of his $4,000,000,000 tax program.

Reaction was mixed, however, on other portions of the President's midyear economic report.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the tax-framing house ways and means committee said he is "very happy over the President's statement that no general tax increase is recommended now."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) complains he has dropped his demand for new income taxes, which always was wrong.

Speaker Rayburn said repeal of the transportation tax on goods

"will be popular." However, he would not attempt to say what prospects there are for raising estate and gift taxes.

NEW YORK, July 12—(AP)—Business and financial circles in New York called President Truman's economic proposals to congress "constructive—for the most part."

Those parts they didn't like, they were flatly against. They have been against them since the President first offered them at previous sessions of congress. The more conservative still felt there were too many "welfare state" proposals.

A great deal of the praise came for those things the President didn't propose—policies and recommendations which businessmen felt he had toned down or eliminated from his previous programs.

All of them felt that the major parts of the speech still had to be acted on by congress, and "we will wait and see how things turn out."

New York Central Will Use Trucks To Speed Freight

CLEVELAND, July 12—(AP)—The New York Central system will start using tractor-trailers tomorrow to speed handling of rail freight on its lines in Ohio.

The co-ordinated rail-truck service will serve 140 Ohio freight stations of the New York Central and will operate daily except Sundays and holidays. The trucks will travel highways paralleling the railroad's right-of way.

The service will save one or more days transit time on many small shipments and will speed movement of carload shipments by eliminating need for many stops to switch off cars with less-than-carload shipments, the railroad said.

The motor vehicles will deliver less-than-carload shipments to smaller stations from key points and will collect merchandise from these smaller stations for making up into rail shipments at the key points.

Similar service was started by the New York Central in Illinois in May and in Indiana last month. With inclusion of Ohio, 400 NYC stations in the midwest will be served by the tractor-trailers.

Routes established for the new service along the Central's lines in Ohio are: Cleveland-Marion; Bellefontaine-Edison; Springfield, Delaware-Columbus - Springfield; Springfield-Dayton-Troy - Springfield; Dayton - Troy-Greenville; Dayton - Cincinnati; Springfield-St. Mary's; Bellefontaine-Dawn; Sandusky-Bellefontaine; Ansonia-Celina-Dawn-Greenville-Union City; Bryan-Celina.

Barn Is Burned

LISBON, July 12—A barn on the Ella Patterson farm near Dungan was destroyed by fire when struck by lightning during the electrical rainstorm Saturday evening. The farm has been unoccupied for several months and although there was no hay or grain in the building a few pieces of farm machinery were destroyed.

Beer first came into use partly because of a shortage of pure water. In ancient days, brewing was done by the housewife in her home.

Granges

Guilford

Miss Nell Robinson, president of the Ohio Hospital association and superintendent of the East Liverpool City hospital, addressed a large group of members and visitors at the Saturday evening meeting of Guilford grange in the grange hall.

Miss Robinson traced the development of the voluntary hospital system from its inception in the churches during the Crusades, to the present day hospitals. "Our present hospital system, the greatest in the world today, ranks fifth in big business from the standpoint of invested capital. Every employed person has invested an average of $106 in hospitals," she stated.

Miss Robinson explained the classification of hospitals as to ownership, type of service offered and size. She disclosed that 58 per cent of the available hospital beds in this country are in government hospitals and are restricted from use by the general public. The great need for additional hospital beds is in the general voluntary hospitals, such as those in Columbiana county, she added. "Continual advances can be expected in the future for health care if our present voluntary hospital system can progress unhampered by federal compulsory health programs."

Albert R. Hanna, superintendent of the Central Clinic and Hospital, was program chairman for the meeting and presented Miss Robinson.

HERE IS SOMETHING DIFFERENT!

64.66 acres located three miles north of Salem on Goshen road. Two extra good houses. One house of seven rooms with slate roof, strictly modern, very nicely planned and sets back the right distance off the road with abundance of nice shade. Grand front porch. The other house is also a good house under slate roof, six rooms with furnace, electricity and pitcher pump in kitchen. Good barn with stanchions, silo and other necessary out-buildings. This farm has very good bottom land pasture with running water through it. This is one of the best producing farms I have ever offered. Excellent neighborhood. Children hauled to school. Price $16,000.00

Having two houses on this farm makes it ideal for your father and mother or if you have a married son or daughter that you want near you. If you wanted to work somewhere else, your father could farm the farm for this farm properly farmed would provide an income large enough for both families.

We can offer you the six room house with a large garden spot and abundance of nice shade with two-car garage at a price of only $6,000.00.

Bliss Takes Over Temporary Lead In National Managers, Umpires Will Select Softball Elite

All-Star Game Slated In Salem Aug. 3 For Player Injury Fund

Another Salem softball classic—the All-Star game between the chosen elite of the American and National leagues—will be held at West End park, Wednesday, Aug. 3, to raise money for the player medical fund, Joe Kelley announced today.

A project that was by-passed last season because the funds were sufficient, the All-Star team feature will again be lined up by the managers and umpires of the two Class A leagues.

Kelley said today that he is asking all Class A team managers and umpires to file with League Secretary Bob Dixon selections for the All-Star teams. They are asked to pick two men for each position on the two teams.

The vote of the managers, coupled with the selections made by the umpires, will decide the teams to take the field.

As an added attraction for that night, Kelley plans to round up his famed "Old Timers" team and match it against the leading team in the Class B loop.

Kelley said tickets will be sold throughout the city in advance of the game, all purchases representing donations to the softball medical fund.

The fund has operated on $568.75 raised in an All-Star game in the summer of 1947. The money is nearly depleted, Kelley says.

The board of control for the fund, including Jim Primm, John Ehrhart and John DeFavero, allows the payments to those injured while playing softball in league games. Only costs up to $25 are paid from the fund. E. M. Stephenson of the Farmers National bank is treasurer of the medical fund.

It is hoped, Kelley said, that enough money can be raised in the one special game, to carry the fund through its operation this season. Then, Kelley says insurance on all players taking part in the league will be considered for future years. This would cost a little more, but would furnish greater coverage in case of injuries.

Managers are asked to make their selections for the team carefully and either mail or give them to Dixon before July 25.

ROBINSON WINS, WANTS TO TAKE ON J. LAMOTTA

Gives Cuba's Gavilan Good, Sound Defeat; Holds His Title

By ORLO ROBERTSON
PHILADELPHIA, July 12 — (AP)—Ray Robinson is still king of the welterweights but he would readily give up the crown for a shot at Jake Lamotta's middleweight title.

If there ever was any doubt whether Sugar Ray is the best of the welters, he erased that impression last night with a clean cut, unanimous decision over Cuba's hustling Kid Gavilan.

Robinson announced he was perfectly willing to continue fighting in the 147-pound division.

"But I would gladly give up my title for a chance at the middleweight championship. I want to fight Lamotta again," he said.

He whipped Lamotta four out of five times before Jake won the 160-pound title.

Even Gavilan's staunchest supporters (and they were many) in the crowd of 27,805 at Municipal stadium couldn't find any fault with the decision.

Judge Harry Lasky and Referee Charley Dagher each gave the champion nine rounds and Gavilan six. Judge Frank Kneeborough scored the fight 12 for Robinson and three for the challenger.

The fight drew a gross gate of $175,754—considerably more than the promoters' expectations—with Robinson collecting 40 per cent and Gavilan 18½ of a net of $128,435.

The Harlem flash, with only the defeat by Lamotta to mar a string of 99 fights since turning pro in 1940, punched sharply and met Gavilan's two-fisted rushing tactics with a beautiful defense.

The first five rounds were pretty much give and take. But in the sixth Robinson started moving away.

Robinson weighed 147; Gavilan 144½.

EARTH-SHAKING DECISIONS NIL AT MAJORS MEET

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—

Earth-shaking decisions were lacking today as the major leagues wound up their annual mid-summer meetings. But the ball players won approval of several of their pet projects.

The leagues, which met separately and then together, announced only one major decision. Next year's All-Star game will be played at Comiskey park, home of the Chicago White Sox.

The players gained four objectives. They got the club owners to agree:

1. To uniform pitching mounds on the diamonds and in the bullpens.

2. To put cinder paths or something besides grass in front of outfield walls. (A safety measure for onrushing outfielders).

3. Improved lighting and a minimum standard of brilliance.

4. Enlarged visiting dressing rooms.

Under discussion among the various groups was the players' pension plan.

Fred (Dixie) Walker, National league player representative, said the pension fund has gone into the hole $80,000 in two years of operation.

"It's no use to kid ourselves," he said. "The plan hasn't panned out as well as we hoped it would. As I see it, we must take in approximately $200,000 more a year for the next eight years to keep the plan working."

The plan guarantees a player who had spent five years in the majors a pension of $50 a month after he becomes 50 years old. A 10-year player gets $100 a month.

Gene Sommers Bests Al Mosher

Gene Sommers, firing another scorching 18-hole 74, Monday morning won the top flight June handicap tournament championship at the Salem Golf club, defeating Al Mosher three and two.

Sommers, who has been hovering around par all season, bested Mosher handily with consistent shooting. Mosher carded an 80, and despite the three strokes handicap difference, couldn't match Sommers' steady pace.

Mosher had advanced to the finals in the top flight with a sensational six and five win over Walt Hartsack. In doing so, Mosher scored even par, 72.

All-Star Tebbetts Feels Feller Hurt Himself With "Slider"; Will Come Back

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, July 12 (UP)—Getting "too cute" developing a new pitch caused the downfall of Bobby Feller. All-Star catcher Birdie Tebbetts asserted today, but the Boston Red Sox backstop insisted that Bullet Bob still had his fast one and was on the way back.

The blocky Birdie, who still thinks that his Red Sox mates will come on to win the American league pennant, doesn't hold with the critics who believe that Feller is through as a star pitcher.

"Trying to throw a slider, being too cute, hurt Feller," Tebbetts explained. "And, while his fast one may not have the old time hop, it still is plenty fast enough."

There and on the shoulder. Feller hurt his arm using the slider when he didn't need it.

"The slider is a resistance pitch," he argued. "Where a curve takes only the wrist or the elbow, a slider puts a strain both

Tribe Will Gather At Radio For Game

CLEVELAND, July 12 (AP)—

Most of the Cleveland Indians will be around radios today as the 16th edition of the major league All-Star game gets under way.

The Tribe will be well represented in Brooklyn, however. None of the boys will be in the starting lineup, but five of them will be on the bench and ready for action. And don't forget Manager Lou Boudreau who will be bossing his first "dream" team in interleague competition.

Joe Gordon, Dale Mitchell, Larry Doby, Jim Hegan, and Bob Lemon are the Cleveland players who figure to see action before the game goes along very far.

A four-run explosion in the second inning sparked by little Roberto Avila's three-run homer clinched a 5-3 victory for the Indians against the Dayton Indians last night.

Avila also got another hit in three trips to lead the Tribe's seven-hit attack on the Cleveland farm club. Doing some nice pitching for Dayton was Jim Ladd who went the route.

Four Tribe hurlers, Steve Grosek, Gene Bearden, Mike Garcia and Frank Papish, faced the opposition, allowing six safeties.

The farm hands pushed one run across in the opening when Bob Kennedy overthrew first after fielding an outfield ground-er. Another bad throw by Kennedy, this time to second and in the second inning, allowed Sweetwater Clifton to race home from third.

PLAY 5 GAMES IN CLASS "A" MONDAY NIGHT

Tilt Between Salem Diner And Amvets Scheduled At West End Park

Business was heavy in Class A softball Monday evening, three games in the National league and two in the American being played off at Centennial and West End parks.

In the National loop Mullins won over the Igloo 9-0, The Salem China defeated the CIO 9-0 and Bliss took the league lead with a 2-0 win over Fishers.

In the American league the National Sanitary smashed Swetyes 12-3 and Parker's Chevroleets won out 5-1 over the Jaycees. Little change, other than Bliss' temporary move into first in the National, took place in league standings.

Tonight the banner game of the season so far, a clash between the tied Salem Diner and Salem Amvets, takes place at 7:30 at the West End park diamond.

The game will settle, for a time, at least, the knotted race in the American league. A large crowd is expected at the fray.

Last night's tilts featured creditable pitching and defensive play. The Igloo, although not a strong hitting team, went down with only one hit before the tossing of Jack King.

The China's Dale Ritchie set the CIO down with one hit, too, while he, McGaffie and Duco were leading the way at the plate for the Potters.

Bliss Wayne Russell was in good form again, limiting Fishers to a mere pair of hits as Al Linder of Parkers did the same trick against the Jaycees.

Santa Clara's star football guard, Don Neihaus of Spokane, Wash., will be playing his fourth season for Coach Len Casanova next fall.

DEPARTMENT OF CONJECTURE

In just a little more than a month, on Aug. 20, the Salem High Quakers of 1949 will begin preparations for one of the toughest schedules a modern Salem High football team has faced.

In chatting with Ben Barrett the other day, we noted the usual "pessimism" that goes with the title football coach. Ben feels certain that the year will be rough all the way.

In fact, Ben, who seldom underestimates an opponent, feels that the schedule is almost without a "breather" this season.

The opener, of course, with New Philadelphia stacks up as one of the toughest games on the card. New Philly boasted a big, fast team last season and has all but two of its starters back for 1949.

In a scrimmage game against Massillon last spring, New Philly showed up well and scouts reported that with the little experience the line gained in spring workouts, it promises to be unusually powerful.

After the big opener, which ought to pack them in amply enough to please even F. E. Cope, comes Ravenna, another squad well-packed with returnees from 1948. And in '48, you know, Salem took one of its two defeats at Ravenna.

The third game, unless Howard Parker pulls stars out of nowhere once again, should be the easiest on the card, Barrett hopefully guesses. Parker, the East Palestine Bulldog mentor, lost most of his veterans and wasn't too strong on reserve material last season.

After East Palestine comes Canton Timken in a game where, The Trojans were tough last season and there's no apparent reason why they should be weaker this season. Wellsville, growing stronger under their new coach, should be away "up" this year.

Then comes another new foe, Akron Central. The Akron club was up among the state's top 10 most of last season and according to reports remains strong in '49.

It's needless to talk about the strength due in East Liverpool and Lisbon, the two big rivals at the tail end of the schedule, and both those trips will be dangerous ones for the Quaker record.

Coach Ben expects a better squad this year than last, due mainly to the returning strength in his line. He figures it will be the biggest team he has ever fielded in Salem and is convinced that there will be some fine back material to go with the line.

It's time, however, for the worrying to begin and as is always the case, worrying turns more and more to pessimism with the coach as the season approaches.

E. M. Stephenson, who spends his summers at Sevekeen country club, pulled a 17-inch, three pound bass out of the comparatively sparsely inhabited waters there late Sunday evening.

A catch of that sort at Sevekeen is quite unusual. Pleased Steve, not to be caught without proof, promptly photographed the prize with one of those new instant cameras.

It is one of the largest bass ever taken from Sevekeen.

Navy Has New Device To Protect Against 'Snorkels'

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)

The Navy is fitting its airplanes with a new and secret radar device to "see" the almost invisible and deadly Snorkel submarine.

A passing reference to this important development in anti-submarine warfare came from an admiral in testimony before a senate appropriations subcommittee, made public over the weekend.

Vice Admiral J. D. Price, vice chief of Naval operations, gave the first official intimation of the Navy's new step in the battle against the submarine when, in discussing the need for detection of submarines, he told the subcommittee:

Gives Estimate

"By 1950, by June of next year, 25 per cent of the land-based planes, or about 10 per cent of the carrier-based planes, will be properly equipped with the new anti-Snorkel submarine equipment, and by 1951 about 39 per cent of the land-based planes and about 31 per cent of the carrier-based planes that we have on order now will be equipped with anti-submarine equipment."

The Snorkel or "breathing" submarine—perfected by the Germans and now in use by this and several other countries, including Russia—has been a "nightmare" problem for anti-submarine experts.

The breather tube allows the submarine to operate on its regular Diesel engines instead of batteries while submerged. Therefore, it can remain below the surface almost indefinitely and can travel at about twice the normal submerged speed or at 17 knots or faster.

But of still greater importance is the fact that with only the small top of the Snorkel breather tube exposed (riding a foot or so above water) it is almost impossible for conventional radar equipment to locate the sub. Moreover, recent development of an anti-radar "paint" confounded the problem. The paint reduces the reflection of the radar impulses striking its surface, thus reducing or preventing their reflection back to the searching set of the hunter plane or ship. Radar waves normally will not penetrate water.

Doesn't Explain

Price gave no technical explanation of the new anti-submarine equipment for planes.

However, the fact that it is airborne indicated strongly that the gadget works on a radar principle. How it overcomes—if it does—the effect of the counter-radar "paint" on the Snorkel or whether radar penetration beneath the water has been attained remain unanswered questions.

The time element given in Price's schedule for equipping planes with the new equipment is significant in light of Russia's reportedly urgent efforts to build up her submarine fleet. Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of Naval operations, told the subcommittee Russia has between 250 and 300 submarines now. Other information reaching this country indicates that the Red fleet probably has about 20 or 30 Snorkel submarines. The rest reportedly are older and smaller coastal type boats.

Few

Fires are practically unknown in the forests of the Amazon region. Since the wood is hard, wet, and green, it does not burn easily.

Tomatoes for summer salads are often nice peeled. To do so dip them whole in hot water for a few minutes, then plunge them into cold water (or hold under the cold water tap) and strip the skin off.

Steel Magazine Sees Strike Due

CLEVELAND, July 12—(UP)

The possibility of a strike in the steel industry is becoming more real, according to the report issued today by the Magazine Steel, publication of the steel trade.

Steel said in its current issue that the contract of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) expires July 16. On the 12th the union's wage policy committee will meet and determine their future course of action. The union could go on strike as its contract ends, Steel said.

Offers made by the union have been rejected by U. S. Steel, and therefore, unless President Truman steps into the picture to hold off the strike for a negotiation period of 60 to 90 days, a strike seems likely, Steel added.

Drop 60 Per Cent

Mass vacations, Fourth of July shut-downs and the generally slackened demand have caused a steelmaking drop of 60 per cent of national ingot capacity, the magazine said.

Steel reports spotty buying as the rule. Supply and demand balance has "practically" been achieved. Prompt shipment is available on some items. No change is apparent in prices except a further slight drop in scrap. Consumers continue to expect a drop and producers continue to deny the possibility, it stated.

Throughout the industry operations declined last week, according to the publication.

District rates dropped as follows: Youngstown 40 points to 50 per cent; Cincinnati 17 points to 72; Pittsburgh 21½ points to 72; Cleveland 17½ points to 62; Detroit 18 points to 88; New England 8 points to 38; St. Louis 7½ points to 75½; Eastern Pennsylvania 6 points to 68; Chicago 2½ points to 68½; Wheeling 2½ points to 68 per cent.

9,300 Rent Units

Are Released Each Day, Report

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)

Rental dwellings have been coming off the control list at the rate of about 9,300 a day since the new rent control law went into operation on April 1, according to federal rent officials.

They said, however, that few of the decontrol actions taken under the machinery set up by the new law have affected any really large metropolitan areas. Some 14,000 units still remain under control.

As of June 30, they said, 551 defensive rental areas were covered by controls. They were located in 1,047 counties with a population of 95,353,444 persons—or about 70.9 per cent of the total population.

While complete figures are not available, officials said 189 rental areas including 560,000 dwelling units were decontrolled between April 1 and June 30. Since then,

Americans Lead Hardy Lives In Israel Homes

By ELIAV SIMON

HAIFA—(UP)—In some Israel settlements Hebrew is spoken with an American accent. War veterans of the U.S. forces pitch tents and erect wooden huts where they intend to spend the rest of their lives.

A few months ago they could be seen in Brooklyn night clubs or movie houses. Today, they get up from their communal supper tables to take a last look into the cowshed, check the irrigation system, make sure the horses are comfortable, mount guard or finish off the day's chores.

Only then, for those who are not too tired, can there be a thought of recreation. This usually takes the form of a visit to one of the neighboring Arab villages or conversation over a cup of Turkish coffee at the house of the local mukhtar, village headman.

There are today four collective settlements in Israel where the American element predominates. Only one of them, Ain Hashofet in lower Galilee, is more than six months old. Ain Hashofet was founded by an American group in 1938. It is there that the new settlers from the United States usually get their final training before setting up a kibbutz, or collective settlement, of their own.

More Expected

Altogether, from 250 to 300 American citizens have up to now started a new life in this way, but more are expected to come within the next few months.

Most of them belong to the Hashomer Hazair (Youth Guardians), a Zionist movement affiliated to the Mapam (United Workers Party). But despite the party's eastern leanings, a strong affection for their native America remains in the hearts of these youngsters.

This apparent discrepancy was explained to me by Haya Melamed, a former draftsman from 13th Street, Brooklyn:

"Local politics is one thing, our love for our native country is another," she said.

Haya, who is 24, heads the secretariat of Sa'asa kibbutz, the only all-American settlement in the country, comprising youths from the United States, Canada and Mexico. Their average age is 22, which is considered a little too high for a young colony.

Has 100 Members

There are just over 100 members and Haya Melamed is their elected leader for the customary period of 12 months.

Any settler with a problem steps into the communal carpentry where she works. Haya may be the boss of the kibbutz but in the shop she is a mere underling, taking orders from the carpenter, Isaac Arbiter, a U.S. Army veteran from Milwaukee.

The only member with a full-time staff job at Sa'asa is Jack Matek from Chicago, late of the U.S. Marine Corps, who knows the Philippines "like my own pocket." He is the elected kibbutz officer.

His right-hand man is 24-year-old Bronx-born Charlotte Benet, whose job it is to look after the armory, one of the most vital institutions of this colony, in view of its proximity to the border. The defense officer always must be on the watch against trespassers who have repeatedly attempted to destroy the crop.

Friendly With Arabs

The American settlers are on excellent terms with their Arab neighbors. An Arab named Hanna receives wages from the Sa'asa colony as its agricultural adviser.

Like others of its kind, this settlement is based on the collective system. That means every member is a partner, but is not entitled to a private income. No one has use for money, since there is nothing to buy, while private possessions are frowned upon unless everyone is similarly favored. Old established settlements provide radio sets, reading lamps and such comforts for all their members. It's either all or none.

Food, clothing, accommodation and other necessities of life as well as luxuries are shared equally from the proceeds of communal labor. Living conditions improve gradually as profits come in. For instance, the people of Ain Hashofet, who live in comfortable houses and have excellent food, started 11 years ago in tents and on a diet just enough to keep them going.

The only time a kibbutz member actually sees some of the fruits of months of toil in terms of hard cash is when he goes to town, whether on the half-yearly or yearly vacation or to transact some business.

ONLY 5 MONTHS OLD, Dickie Morse is recovering from a rare and dangerous operation at Los Angeles Children's hospital to remove a sewing machine needle embedded in his heart. Only one child in three survives such surgery, and locating it was a 1,000-to-1 chance, say doctors. Nearly entire needle was buried in heart. Dickie expects to go home to San Diego, Cal., soon. It is estimated that there is enough coal in the United States to last 2000 years, and enough oil to last a century. There probably is enough motor fuel to supply all needs for at least 2900 years.
